PostCode enables you to generate Royal Mail and US Postal Service Postal Barcodes.

These enable mail to be delivered more efficiently, and if you send a large amount of mail, to receive extra savings on your postal costs.

if you use the reply paid scheme for incoming mail you can save the surcharge if you use postal barcodes.

PostCode works on its own as an application, to allow you to paste Postal Barcodes into your wordprocessor, or remotely through your database to enable you to insert postal barcodes automatically into your database generated output.

PostCode also allows your mail to look more professional, giving your company a larger image in the eyes of both your customers and suppliers.
